Lisa J. Amstutz is the author of more than 30 nonfiction books for children and many magazine and newspaper articles. Her background includes a B.A. in Biology and an M.S. in Environmental Science/Ecology. She loves sharing amazing facts about science and nature with kids.

Excellently written, simple format but informative. My first graders loved them as we studied animal adaptations in different habitats. Could easily be enjoyed by other grades, too. Beautiful photos as well. I recommend all the habitats this series has (I bought 4)!

nice little book for kids,nice pictures

My kindergartners loved it. It was for teaching informational writing about animals. It was for my kiddos to understand

I used this book for PLTW (Project Lead the Way) Animal Adaptation unit for first grade and it was just perfect.

This book was a great resource for teaching adaptations during a rainforest unit with 5th graders. It includes a variety of animals and how their physical characteristics help them survive. A+

This whole series is amazing ... we love it
