Hiro Fujiwara is from Hyogo Prefecture in Japan and was born on December 23. Maid-sama! (originally published as Kaicho wa Maid Sama! in Hakusenshaâ 's LaLa magazine) is her first long-running manga series and is available in North America from VIZ Media.

I own the entire series now and so sad that it has finally ended, but it ended on a good note! These last two volumes made me sweat, (i think cry), and just generally have a heart attack cause they were so touching. Though the only thing I'm still confused over is the proposal from Usui to Misaki...? that was the only thing that confused me, but i'm glad they got married and lived happily ever after! Side Note recommendation if you liked this series: Read or watch My Little Monster &

Special A because they are quite similar to this genre All have in common: Romance, High school, The boys is somewhat better than the girl in school, & comedy

Volume 9 brings the series to a close with some sweet moments and a very "Maid-Sama!" ending. Fujiwara stayed fairly consistent throughout this long series and didn't sidetrack into the minor character lives too often, keeping the story focused on the moments between Usui and Ayuzawa. Synopsis: It's graduation time for Ayuzawa, Usui, and the other seniors at the high school. Loose ends are tied up as Usui comes to terms with his parents and half brother/grandfather. Ayuzawa, meanwhile, realizes it might just be time to 'come out' to her school mates about working in a maid cafe. Ayuzawa's sister sets her sights on Koh and the poor guy will never know what hit him when she's through. The ending is zany and fun - taking place ten years after the end of high school. It's both appropriate and a solid ending to what has been a very entertaining series. Reviewed from an advance reader copy provided by the publisher.
