Synopsis

Our Song School Latin CD is for sale on its own! Whether or not you have time to include Latin in your curriculum, you can still include these amazing songs in your day, as you travel and in your home. Give your kids Latin exposure even before they study it, or take this opportunity to share the music you have enjoyed with friends. These lively songs, which include everyday vocabulary in an easy to remember format, are the perfect dose of Latin contact without the commitment of a curriculum. Classical Academic Press Educators will find all curricula by Classical Academic Press to be created with four important attributes. Each product is classical, creative, relevant, and easy to use. As our company name implies, you will find that we publish classical books and media, seeking to acquaint students with the best that has been thought and said. We also design and present our products with creativity and zest, from beautiful illustrations to engaging storytelling, ensuring that the classical subjects being taught are anything but boring. Areas we publish in include: -Latin -Ancient Greek -Logic -Bible, Old & New Testament -The Art Of Poetry -Spanish -Classical Education Resources

My kids are right about 6, 4, 3, and 1. We're doing a gentle introduction to Latin with Getting Started With Latin, but I wanted something fun for them to listen to in the car. They all love Song School Latin. It's the first thing they ask for when we get in the car. They sing the songs constantly (thankfully, they're catchy and not annoying) and our oldest enjoys working the vocabulary into everyday conversation. The CD has 60 tracks. The first thirty are classical pronunciation; the last thirty are ecclesiastical. We're doing ecclesiastical pronunciation for religious reasons. I have one quibble and that is with the "Quid agis" tracks. The spoken track pronounces "agis" with a soft g; the song pronounces it with a hard g. My understanding is that ecclesiastical calls for a soft g, so I just emphasize that pronunciation as we sing along. Overall, we're delighted with the CD. If my kids were older, I'd probably get the entire program. At their ages, the CD alone is wonderful.

Use this with my 3.5 year old just to expose him to latin. He is already picking up some words. Love that there are the two versions on the cd so you can hear the difference and decide which to go with.

What we needed and looked for. Glad we found just the CD.

The second half of the CD is more or less the same as the first. My 4 year old loves this CD though. And for the vowel sounds song alone it is worth it.*Only 4 songs (of over 40) are religious.

I can't understand the words on this. The lyrics aren't clearly sung and we aren't learning a thing. I suppose having the book would help, but I was hoping the songs would do it.
