111 Places In Stockholm That You Must Not Miss

Synopsis

Stockholm for Connoisseurs: The City of Magic Light is newly illuminated 111 times in this book.- Where did Carl Gustav have his hair cut for his first postage stamp?- Where do you feel like Karlsson-on-the-Roof?- Where can you find the subterranean apartment of Nobel Prize winner Nelly Sachs?It is no mere chance that Astrid Lindgren created such wonderful stories as "Karlsson-on-the-Roof" and "Mio, My Son" in Stockholm. The city is full of exciting, tragic, scurrilous, and startling tales surrounding such places. Or did you know where the first house of worship for both Moslems and Christians in the whole world stands? Or where the entire apartment of a Nobel Prize winner was archived by a library? Come along to 111 strange, wonderful, but always original spots holding surprises in store even for the natives of Stockholm.

Customer Reviews

This travel guide takes you to 111 wonderful, unordinary but always original places that will surprise even locals.

In 2004, Christiane Brocker moved for professional reasons from Hamburg to Stockholm. At the time she thought it would be for just one year... But now she is still discovering the most unusual places in this fascinating city, day by day. And as long as things stay this way, she is staying, too. Babette Schroder, a freelance journalist, developed movies and different series for TV stations as a producer, and founded her own production company. Today, she is working, among other tasks, as a translator of English and French literature in Hamburg. She simply loves working with and looking for good stories.

great book-wonderful off the beaten path travel guide
