If you are LDS (Mormon) you will love these for your kids/teens. My husband and I love them too! He is hilarious, so his talks are fun and engaging while uplifting at the same time. He paces well and goes back and forth between light-hearted and serious. The stories that he tells really bring his point home and get kids thinking more about their life and choices. My nine year old boy loves these, and has listened to them over and over. I sometimes bring them up when we are having an issue that was discussed in one of the lectures, and it helps him understand my point better.

If you want 10 cds that are uplifting, funny, and share great messages, this is the perfect choice. He's clever, spiritual, but most of all I appreciate the messages and practical tips of how to better love your siblings, neighbors and strangers. One downside is that we had already purchased one of these separately, but I wish I had just found out about this first and avoided the double purchase. Anyhow, I highly recommend this set.

My husband listened to this whole collection on a road trip and came home a new man. It's a great collection of funny and inspiring talks. Hank Smith is irreverent at times but when he gets serious, beautiful connections and lasting imagery is distilled on the listening soul. My 10-year-old loves Hank Smith, too. We will be listening to these discs in the car for a long time to come. Phrases like, "Don't crush my chips," and "How's your house's foundation," will be part of our family vocabulary for a long time to come.

I had never heard of Hank Smith until last summer while visiting family. Now our whole family loves him. He is a great speaker, who can entertain and teach both kids and adults. My children ages 14, 11, 9 and 7 think he is hilarious and I know they are learning from him. He has a great way of drawing you in and keeping you interested as he teaches about life and the gospel. We've already bought some other talks of his that are not included in this collection and I know we will get more.

I wish I could give this 10 stars. This is such a fantastic collection! I bought it for my "children" but really, I'm the one enjoying them all of the time. (My kids do love it too.) I listen to the cds in my car all the time, I always have one in. Even though I've heard the stories over and over, they never fail to make me laugh. If you're looking for something inspirational and hilarious for your kids (or yourself!) Look no further.

I bought these after hearing Hank Smith speak to the youth in my area. They are the next best thing to hearing him in person! I love the mix of stories and instruction - it sucks you in and keeps you actively listening. I think teens and adult alike will enjoy laughing, listening, and laughing some more. Even as an adult I find value in the teachings and that they apply to me too.

Hank Smith's outlook on life lessons is definitely unique. He captivated my children in the first CD that we listen to. Ever since then, they back to listen to Hank Smith anytime we are riding in the car. They prefer it over any type of music. The CDs are definitely a good eight and helping to raise good and happy children. But it doesn't stop at children, as an adult they gave me a perspective to help me realize somethings are just not important and other things are.

I just got my Hank Smith Collection. I've been wanting it for over a year. Thanks to for having a sale and free shipping. I listen to it in my car. My kids love it. It's a major win because they are learning and getting uplifted. I don't have to listen to fighting or the same movie playing in the DVD player over and over again. Hank has a great way of explaining the gospel for every one to understand and is very funny to keep you interested. Love the Lora Larsen challenge especially now I know her as an adult. She does GLOW!
