Rosicrucian Trilogy: Modern Translations Of The Three Founding Documents

Synopsis

The Rosicrucian TrilogyÂ features modern translations ofÂ Fama Fraternitatis(1614),Â Confessio FraternitatisÂ (1615), andÂ The Chemical Wedding of Christian RosenkreuzÂ (1616) with 30 original illustrations by Hans Wildermann.Four hundred years ago, the publication of these 3 anonymous documents launched the Rosicrucian movement. The story of Christian Rosenkreuz and his secretive order, as told in theÂ Fama Fraternitatis, had political repercussions that continue to this day, whileÂ The Chemical WeddingÂ is a landmark in European fantasy fiction. This present book offers the 3 founding documents in reliable, readable, modern English. Fully annotated and with modern introductions, these new translations explain the historical context, shed light on the beginnings of the Rosicrucian Order, and bring this fascinating material to a wider readership.

Customer Reviews

This is a new translation of the three Rosicrucian Manifestos that appeared in Europe in 1614, 1615, and 1616. Godwin is an excellent author of esoteric material with a long history of many fine books. This is an excellent addition to that tradition of his. This should be in any Rosicrucian's personal library, or alchemist's study.

It is a delight to be able to read such a close translation of the original - well so far as being able to amass several versions to try to identify the most true to the original spirit. My previous English copy was a version made over 100 years ago, so it is wonderful to see the results of true scholarship over the past century to bring us the most accurate version of these seminal books in many years. My thanks for the scholarship which went into this.

It is a difficult read, but it tries to keep true to the original documents.

Very well written and enjoyable. I'm a member of the SRICF and wanted to read a modern translation.
